

I am eager to apply my problem solving, analyzing, and programming skills, as well as my curiosity, to the cybersecurity field. I believe the privacy and security of organizations, people, and data is vital and needs to be protected, and I am determined to do my part. My skills and knowledge will help me discover and analyze threats, build defenses, and protect information.